TENNESSEE'S LARGEST PETTING FARM HARVESTS A NEW VARIETY OF FARM FRESH FUN

EAGLEVILLE, TN. -- Discover farm fresh fun at Lucky Ladd Farms – home of Tennessee's largest petting farm. Starting September 26th through November 1, the farm will be open Friday nights and every weekend where children and adults alike can take part in a variety of wholesome activities from meandering through the "Amazing Maize-Free Maze" to a picking a pumpkin in the Pumpkin Patch.

The farm offers unique adventures and entertainment for everyone. Slide down the giant Monster slide on burlap sacks, watch the goats maneuver the farm's remarkable Goat-A-Coaster or take a narrated hayride on the farm's back forty where the kids learn about Tennessee wildlife. Kid's will love playing in the giant corn box, swinging on old fashioned tire swings, riding on the barrel train or playing a tune on the pots and pans in the sound garden. Adults and teens will enjoy barrels of laughs, trying to find their way through the flashlight maze where getting lost may be more fun than being found.

Special events are planned for every weekend such as School Spirit Maze Dayz on Saturday, October 17th where students can show up wearing their school t-shirt or school ID and get one free ticket to the corn maze -or- the Great Pumpkin Festival on Saturday, October 31st with free giveaways to the first 300 children showing up in their Halloween costume. Other planned fall activities at Lucky Ladd Farms includes a scarecrow building contest, potato sack races, corn shucking contests, pie eating contests and pumpkin carving contests.
